

Roster of Confederate Soldiers From Patrick County

The Confederate States of America placed 1,231,006 men in the field. Virginia sent the largest number with 214,476 fighting for the South. There were 10,000-recorded battles with 2, 200 of them fought in Virginia. The following list of men served in the Confederate armies. On some men, considerable information is readily available, but in some cases only the name and the fact that the man served is known. No doubt, some names of those who served are not listed. A few men enlisted in Patrick County from adjacent counties. Likewise, some who resided in Patrick County enlisted and served in other areas. Those who later lived in the County and are buried here are listed. An attempt was made to include the names of all of those who had any Patrick County connection.

This roster began with the work of O. E. Pilson in History of Patrick County and his papers at the Bassett Historical Center of the Blue Ridge Regional Library. The H. E. Howard Regimental History Series along with The Index of Confederate Soldiers edited by Janet Hewitt enhanced this roster. The Confederate Disability and Pension Applications at the Library of Virginia, United Daughters of the Confederacy Applications at the Patrick County Historical Society and the Death Register in the Patrick County Court House were consulted in preparing this roster.

A key noting the abbreviations is shown below. Locations are in the Virginia unless otherwise noted. Some regiments started out with one designation and became another. The 47th Battalion of Virginia Cavalry became the 26th Virginia Cavalry. The 32nd Battalion of Virginia Cavalry became the 24th Virginia Cavalry. Lee Wallace's Guide to Virginia Military Organizations 1861-1865 is the source to interpret these designations. Prisons are listed as locations such as Elmira, New York or Point Lookout, Maryland.
